

GIFAS ELECTRIC Germany

We offer top quality electrical products for the toughest applications: Technical lights, solid rubber electrical distribution equipment, transformers and floor pits for underground electrical distribution.

When it comes to electrical products that carry out their function reliably even under the toughest conditions, GIFAS has been the right partner since 1957 to industry, commerce, trade, architects and the construction industry.

There are many reasons for our success. Probably the most important are our consistent quality when it comes to construction, processing and materials and highly skilled workers with a strong customer focus. The result of this is products that are precisely tailored to the needs of our German and international customers.
